

THE 2010 COA ANNUAL MEETING IN EDMONTON: CATCH UP ON THE LATEST TRENDS IN ORTHOPAEDICS

Preliminary Program | coaannualmeeting.org

Fact: Demand for orthopaedic care is greater than ever and will continue to grow for decades to come.

Fact: Research and development in orthopaedics is moving at such a pace, it's practically impossible to keep up with the literature.

Fact: As the profession moves to less-invasive procedures, the nature of peri-operative patient care is changing.

Fact: The best way to stay current is to attend the COA Annual Meeting. It's where the real knowledge transfer in orthopaedics is happening.

Our scientific program lets you follow your interests, whether it be a single stream of content in a particular subspecialty or a broad range of topics and ideas. Either way, look for:

- Common and controversial topics
- COA and CORS Combined Sessions, presenting the latest research in orthopaedics
- Expert panels and debates
- Open papers grouped by specialty
- Tips and tricks video sessions, and much more!

Also, don't miss this opportunity to network and have fun with friends and colleagues from across Canada at this year's various social events and guest programs.

Register now!

Residents and Fellows: Find out how you can attend at no charge.

The Annual Meeting takes place in Edmonton, June 17-20.

Early bird registration deadline: April 1, 2010.
